

AAA Recognizes Complete Auto Repair as a Trusted Resource For Travelers

The AAA Auto Club Group adds Complete Auto Repair to its Approved Auto Repair Program. This program seeks the finest automobile repair facilities nationwide to provide its members with peace of mind and fair pricing. AAA specifically pointed to the large number of positive reviews that Complete Auto Repair has earned, as proof of its quality service.

“We are honored that AAA added us to their prestigious program. We pride ourselves in earning your business through quality work at a fair price,” said Ron Morgan, owner of Complete Auto Repair.

The AAA Approved Auto Repair (AAR) program was created to address one of the most frequent consumer complaints in America — unsatisfactory automobile repairs. The AAR program does this by directing members and other consumers to AAA Approved Auto Repair facilities that meet and maintain high professional standards.

Since the AAR program began in 1975, more than 8,000 auto repair facilities have been established in the United States and Canada. These facilities are inspected, tested and approved through a series of criteria that includes customer service requirements, facility appearance, staff qualifications and training, and business reputation.
